I was born and brought up in Makadara Constituency, where I live up to date. During my daily life here, I have noted a few things that need a serious and urgent change. Some of these include:

Poverty - Most of us live below poverty line; Statistics say that, in Kenya, 90% of the resources are shared by 10% of the population while 10% of the resources are shared by 90% of the population. In other words, in Kenya, its either you are rich or poor

The Youth - These are the largest in population here and most of them are jobless due to lack of jobs and corruption

It's the most disadvantaged group here with above named factors leading to their social and family life lagging behind.

HIV and AIDS - This is a national scourge and people living with it need better services and better care. Poverty has made it impossible for the infected to manage the disease.

Insufficient shelter and lack of it - Most families have to squeeze into a small house.

Education - most of our children have dropped out of school due to financial difficulties of paying fees and still bursaries is not allocated to them.

Unemployment - This is more particular with the youths, unemployed therefore daring other means of livelihood which are socially unacceptable like crime and prostitution

Water - Water shortages most of the time that leads to diseases and unhygienic conditions.

Mismanagement of Public Resources - Public resources meant to help you e.g. CDF, Bursaries, Youth Funds are squandered by a few in a corruption scandal.

Food - Because of lack of jobs, affording a proper balanced diet meal is a problem to most families.

Corruption - Its everywhere e.g. (Bribes, Ghost workers, employment opportunities given to incompetent individuals because they are linked, while the deserving are left in the cold)

Insecurity - People are shot for no reason, their belongings stolen, even at daylight.

Having experienced the above therefore:

Am a youthful leader, energetic, ambitious, willing and full of zest to modify the situation and take leadership and decision making to a new level, where you are given the chance to propose community projects that help you.
